FORMAL OPENING OF W. W. ASTOR'S PALACE, THE WALDORF.

Magnificence that has taxed the resources of the world—A Brilliant Gathering of the Fashionable Set of This and Other Cities Inspect the Varied Treasures and Contribute Incidentally to a Charity.

The Hotel Waldorf, the most splendid hotel in the world, was formally thrown open last night with a concert-reception, at which the brilliant and luxurious society of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago was present. It was a very, very, very night, with the brilliant and luxurious society of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago was present. It was a very, very, very night, with the brilliant and luxurious society of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Chicago was present.

To American enterprise is due most of the movement toward luxurious hotels which exists in all parts of the world today. But heretofore even American enterprise had not dreamed of such palatial splendors as those through which the fashionable throngs moved last night. In few nations of the world can such wealth of costly and artistic art roundings be found. The fashionable people who want to the charity concert reception are accustomed to the extravagant necessities of civilized life in their own homes. They have surrounded themselves with the things which human ingenuity has devised without regard to expense for the adornment of the person and in the environment. But even they were surprised.

They found here, at the northwest corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-third street, in a public hotel—a place where the expenses of living exclude all but a small class who can be called upon to contribute to the most productive of money could not find a home with the aid of good taste. They found reception and ball and dining rooms which were decorated and furnished as only nineteenth-century artists, with all the past centuries of art and taste to draw from, can decorate and adorn. They found private suites of rooms, private dining rooms, salons, bedrooms such as kings could not expect. All the refinements of all the various civilizations had been drawn upon, and the artists who had the work in charge had so blended that nowhere was there incongruity except in such trifling details as the little things which are so easily overlooked.

FRANCE ANNOUNCES THE NAMES OF HER SHIPS IN THE NAVAL REVIEW.

She Will Send Out One First-Class Cruiser—Bourgeois Cleveland Makes a Correction—Mrs. Cleveland Holds a Reception—Baron Gave a Dinner in Honor of His King's Birthday—Washington Visitors.

Washington, March 14.—France has at last informed the Navy Department of the extent of her display at the naval review. To the surprise of the officials and navy officers who will send only three vessels, two of which are wooden cruizers, antiquated in design and armament. It was supposed that both France and Great Britain would send some of their crack vessels, and that each would try to outdo the other in their display, but if Great Britain does no better than her rival naval power, the United States will be disappointed. The three vessels which France has announced are the Albatros, a first-class cruiser, the Albatros, a first-class cruiser, and the Albatros, a first-class cruiser.

The day the department was informed by the Minister of Marine at Paris that his Government would certainly send three ships, and possibly another, all in command of the Admiral commanding the North American and West Indian station. These vessels are the Albatros, a first-class cruiser, the Albatros, a first-class cruiser, and the Albatros, a first-class cruiser. The Albatros is a first-class cruiser, the Albatros is a first-class cruiser, and the Albatros is a first-class cruiser.

THE SCRAMBLE FOR OFFICE.

MR. CLEVELAND LIMITS THE TIME WHEN SEEKERS MAY SEEK.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Cleveland has been compelled to follow the example of Secretary Lamont and Hoke Smith and limit the time when he can be seen by office seekers to a stated hour each day. The President politely insists that he is not disturbed or annoyed by the host of office seekers, but he feels that he cannot give them all his time. Hereafter they must make their calls brief and give way to more important visitors. It is probable that he will be just as well for the office seekers to go along in their applications, as the President has stated several times lately that he does not intend to make any minor appointments at present. When the crowd leaves town the work will begin. The Cabinet officers think it will be well to accomplish anything while the crowd is here.

The Senate committee will be agreed upon to-morrow probably, and on Thursday a batch of important nominations will be looked for. Among them may be the name of Secretary of the Interior. He is selected him, he says, and he is a lawyer. His name is a secret, however, for the present. The only appointment agreed upon to-day is that of ex-Representative McAdoo to be Assistant Secretary of the Navy. Mr. McAdoo served on the Naval Committee of the House with Mr. Herbert for several years, and is a highly energetic, popular man, whose appointment will meet with general approval in Washington.

Women who received Presidential appointments under former Administrations are to be placed on the disqualified list along with the masculine ex-officials and newspaper editors. The President has decided to do this to that effect to-day. He was moved to make that decision by Representative Caruth of Kentucky. The jolly Kentuckian, who represents the Louisville district, has been quite regular in his attendance at the White House, and he has been a frequent visitor at the White House. He has been a frequent visitor at the White House, and he has been a frequent visitor at the White House.

Hood's Cures.

Beyond Description.

Dyspepsia, Intense Misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla Perfectly Cured. "No pen can describe the suffering I endured ten years from dyspepsia. I tried almost every medicine in the market, and consulted several good physicians without getting any relief. In fact, I had taken so much medicine that I had almost given up hope. I was ever being any better when I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I decided to try it. It is just about a year ago that I began to take it, and it gave me relief very soon. But I continued with it until now I am entirely cured of the dyspepsia, and advise any one suffering from this complaint to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. The truth of this statement I am glad to verify at any time."—MRS. JOHN FENTON, 87 Ridge St., Pittsburgh, Pa.
